What is IDPBC?

The IDPBC project strives to empower children from disadvantaged backgrounds to see themselves in the curriculum, enable all children to function within diverse/multicultural educational environments, and prepare teachers to teach diverse learners.

IDPBC pursues all of the above by placing in the hands of children, teachers, student teachers and parents, powerful visual stories about young protagonists who encounter diversity and explore issues of identity, difference and inclusion.

Children, teachers, student teachers and parents, are educated and guided through activities that value diversity, combat racism and xenophobia and enhance the child's self-image and self-efficacy.

Aims of IDPBC

IDPBC aims to equip teachers with the necessary knowledge, attitudes and competences to successfully manage and support diversity in their classrooms, and help them make teaching and learning more inclusive and accommodating.

Compile a collection of international picture books in a range of languages.

Develop, test and disseminate a series of picture-book-based approaches and activities.

Publish and disseminate a guide that supports practitioners in integrating IDPBC picture books in the curriculum.

Provide training and professional development to pre- and in-service educators.

Provide an Open Educational Resources (OER) platform that enables pre- and in-service educators to develop networks of practitioners who integrate picture books in the curriculum.
