

Let's combat Homophobic and Transphobic bullying in schools!

Combating HOMophoBic And Transphobic bullying in schools (HOMBAT) is a new European project, aiming to create a solid and sustainable framework for the prevention and combatting of Homophobic & Transphobic (HT) bullying in schools, in Greece, Cyprus and Lithuania.

Are you an education professional (teacher, school advisor, school psychologist, administrator etc.) at primary and secondary level?

Are you a student or parent having experienced or observed HT bullying incidents?

Are you representative of an organization supporting LGBT rights?

Are you determined to combat gender and sexual orientation discrimination?

Join our effort!

How will you be involved?

| As a teacher, you will be trained and build your capacities in dealing with HT bullying in the school environment (challenge prejudices and bullying, support LGBT youngsters, involve parents etc.).

| As an education professional, civil society representative or policy maker you will participate in strategic workshops leading the change of discriminatory attitudes towards sexual diversity, by developing and implementing a national action plan to combat HT bullying.

| As a parent or student, you will participate in targeted informational and awareness raising activities, enhancing your knowledge and helping spread the word against gender and sexual orientation discrimination.

Are you interested to participate or to be updated about the project?
